Who Are We?

I have been struggling with tax exempt status for the MSSA Foundation. If successful, donors will be able to get a tax deduction. Since this is money the government will not get, they make it difficult. The heart of the struggle is the redundant question of why we think we are a charity; exactly what good do we do?

We are the NRA state affiliate. This would answer the question in many quarters, but the government, this government, wants more. Our members have participated in youth safety programs involving air rifles, rifles and shotguns. Teaching gun safety saves lives. This should qualify us, if we taught safe sex the government would give us money. We may not be an approved life-saving activity, but we do it anyway.

We have promoted marksmanship sponsoring state matches. Judging by the trophies I passed out at the annual dinner, we have done so very well. Young persons have gone to college on rifle team scholarships due to our tutelage. We have sponsored a few shooters who were aimed at international competition. We have done this for a very long time. I found an article in a 1933 American Rifleman which recounts a large marksmanship competition held by MSSA in Jefferson City. Women had their own teams in those days, perhaps to avoid showing up the men.

Then there were the young people who showed up at boot camp already knowing how to shoot, handle a gun safely and clean the gun afterwards. The experience made them a little better prepared for the worst days of the last dozen years. Some came back with their minds stuffed with demons from the war, and we supported groups that replaced bad memories of shooting with good ones.

Some of our people taught hunting, the ethical way to be a carnivore. Students are taught fairness; fairness to other hunters, and respect for the animals. Participants tell me that there is a reason that the sport is called hunting, not killing.

We do not endorse individual candidates or provide money but promote legal and political education. We sponsor the annual Rally Day in Jefferson City. The 2013 Rally drew 450 participants in the middle of the week. Some of our political representatives told us that they supported us. Our presence told them what they needed to know. An hour after the Rally, they voted to end violations of gun owners' privacy rights. Walking the halls of the legislature does not match the experience of a day afield, but it saves our rights for our children and grandchildren.

We have survived for over eighty years because in every generation MSSA members have passed on our heritage. We shall continue to do so. We have a new face on the MSSA Board. Mary Butler has joined the board and will back up John Leinberger in our junior program. Another generation will learn our sport.

We are four generations of sportsmen, working on five. We pass on our skills and knowledge without pay, compensation and just a little recognition. We need the experiences of the competitions and classes so that we can pass on our heritage. Send your experiences to the newsletter, we deserve the recognition.

Applications are the last page of each newsletter, and can be copied if you wish to keep your newsletter intact. Application forms can also be printed from our website at missourisportshooting.org – or you can renew or join online and pay by credit care as well.

MSSA ANNUAL GENERAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING & BANQUET

By Grace Leinberger

The annual general membership meeting and banquet of the MSSA was held Saturday, April 27, 2013 in Jefferson City, MO at the DAV building. Shooting championship and recognition awards were presented after dinner. (See list of awards and winners on previous page.)

Approximately 25 members attended the meeting and about 40 others joined them later for dinner and the awards.

After the regular business was finished, seven board of directors seats were up for election, six 3-year terms plus one 2-year term. Six incumbents were reelected: Terry Struse, Larry Crawford, Lee Koester, John Leinberger, Mike Kight, and Grace Leinberger. A previous board opening resulted in also having a 2-year position available. Due to the ballot count, incumbent Larry Crawford filled the 2-year position, and newcomer Mary Butler was elected to a 3-year position. (Executive officers later elected by the board are: President Kevin Jamison, Vice President Grace Leinberger, Secretary Mike Kight, Treasurer Lee Koester, and Executive Officer Phil Anderson.)

The board discussed the very successful Gun Rally held at the State Capitol on April 18, 2013. The event was organized by MSSA board member, Marc Perez. Congratulations Marc, on a job well done! This rally was one of the best. Congratulations and thanks also to those who assisted Marc!

Board member Don Merritt spoke briefly about the Missouri M1's for Vets. This organization presents M1's to Missouri wounded warriors. A formal presentation ceremony is held, usually in Owensville, MO. Following the emotional ceremony, the wounded warrior competes in an M1 match using his rifle. (Additional information on this worthy program appears elsewhere in the newsletter.) The board voted to support the Missouri

Representative Curtman was the primary guest speaker at the MSSA Awards Banquet. Paul Curtman is also the author of "Don't Tread On Me!" (originally published in 2009) and "Don't Tread On Me! The Constitution and State Sovereignty" (published in 2013).

Camp Hope (whose founders attended and spoke at last year's banquet) received recognition and board support at the meeting. Camp Hope is located in Farmington, Missouri and provides rehabilitation to recovering wounded veterans. This special rehabilitation has resulted in dramatic life changes for most who attend. To learn more about this organization, visit their website at: www.ChrisNealFarm.com

John Leinberger spoke about the growing interest in Summer Biathlon (running & shooting) and the possibility of its return. He has received support from other organizations and coaches. He has received funding for the purchase of one metal target that cost $110. Anyone wishing to fund more targets or assist in the program should contact John.

It was agreed to schedule next year's Annual Meeting so it wouldn't be in conflict with gun matches held annually at Marshall, Missouri. This will allow many shooters to attend the meeting.

The 2014 meeting will be held at the American Legion Post 202 located at 600 Legion Lane in Columbia on April 5th.

Harold Miederhoff, who has made the awards plaques for more than 30 years, has given notice that he is finally retiring. He will no longer be able to make the Missouri walnut, state-shaped plaques. Heartfelt thanks are due to Harold for selflessly creating these plaques for so many shooters and award recipients. Happy retirement, Harold!

This year's after-dinner guest speaker was Missouri District 109 House Representative Paul Curtman.

Representative Curtman was elected to the House in 2010. Prior to that, he received his B. A. in Political Science from the University of MO. He served as a Sergeant in the US Marine Corps from 1999 to 2003 and served as a reservist from 2003 to 2009. He is also a Series 7 Investment Representative. He challenged the members to spend more time learning the true meaning of the US Constitution; the meaning that our forefathers intended when they wrote it.

M1s FOR VETS

By Grace Leinberger

The Missouri M1s for Vets is having a special raffle to raise funds to purchase fifteen M1 Garands. (See page 8 for raffle details.)

Normally, no more than one or two rifles are given at one presentation to Missouri wounded warriors; however, because of certain circumstances, there is a need for 15 Garands.

On April 16, 2012, the Taliban in Afghanistan attacked and breached a US compound. In the process of this attack, 15 members out of approximately 70 members of the Missouri National Guard Agribusiness Development Team were wounded. These guard members were chosen from the entire state because of their expertise in the Agribusiness field. They were tasked with teaching the Afghanistani's how to raise crops other than poppies.

Each M1 Garand is approximately $700. Don Merritt, the state director of Missouri M1s for Vets, tentatively plans to present all 15 of the rifles in Owensville, Missouri on November 12, 2013. This ceremony will be open to the public and should prove to be a very emotional presentation.

There are 33 gun clubs in the U.S. that participates in the M1s for Vets program. To date, approximately 315 rifles have been presented nationally, 70 of which have been presented to Missouri vets.

M1 Garand Drawing Winner

The winner of the M-1 Garand rifle this year is... Carl Scheske of St. Louis. Congratulations, Carl!

Liberty Notes

BY KEVIN L. JAMISON

April 2013

It is a good day for Liberty.

The Republic of Palau was looking for an Assistant Attorney General. It is an island nation in the South Pacific, tropical climate, and an American legal system. If the advertisement had mentioned their gun laws, I might have run away from home.

In State of Mo v Gregory Allan Rodgers, an opinion issued 2/5/13, the appellate court twice refers to a "Browning .9mm Lugar," which must be a collector's item. The court got this designation from a brief written by a lawyer who must have seen it in a police report or trial testimony. It meant nothing to the decision, but it demonstrates that people who know nothing about guns are deciding which part of a gun is evil.

In Mission Impossible III, Tom Cruise has 4 minutes to live and must instruct his wife on how to fight off bad guys while he saves himself and thus the world. He starts off with, "This is a Berretta Model 92, it is an excellent close-range weapon." All true, but with 4 minutes to live, I would have cut to the "point-kill-change magazines" part. In Hannie Caulder, Robert Culp is a gunfighter who teaches Raquel Welch how to shoot various rapists she had met. They had also killed her husband; she took offense. He has a great deal more time for instruction and stresses double taps.

We are constantly told that standard magazines must be cut to ten rounds or less because the time consumed in changing magazines will save lives. One "authority" claimed that it takes two seconds. When I was in ROTC, I asked our small arms instructor how long it took to change magazines, and in his heavy Polish accent, he explained that it was an insignificant amount of time; something even a First Sergeant would not notice. In my own service, I was not the most dexterous Infantry Lieutenant but found that the only delay was occasioned by trying not to drop the magazine, because if I lost it I would have to pay for it. This is not a concern of suicidal mass murderers. The Citizens' Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms reports that a video made by Boone County Indiana Sheriff Ken Campbell proves that a person with ten-round magazines can fire just as fast as with thirty round magazines. In the Virginia Tech massacre, the killer carried a number of 10-round magazines and does not seem to have been inconvenienced. Decades ago, I recall hearing of a misogynist killer at a Toronto school killing women with a Ruger Mini-14 using a 5-round magazine; he had the only gun in the building and so had things his own way. The anti-gun people cite a couple of instances in which a murderer fumbled a magazine change and was rushed by his targets. I will not have my safety rely on the criminal making a mistake. Prohibitionists wail that people who rush a murderer could not possibly shoot him; although, even in my youth I knew that it was easier to shoot a target than to rush it. In the Army, we had bayonets, but I cannot remember taking one out of the arms room, even for guard duty; none of us wanted to get to know the enemy that well. The prohibitionists wail that shooting mass murderers would cause bullets to "go everywhere" although it seems to me that the problem is always that bullets were going everywhere except at the bad guy. Confronting a mass murderer with a gun has worked every time. There is no reason to trust our lives to his mistake in changing magazines.

I continue to see arguments that cartridge limits on hunting shotguns justify limits on AR 15 magazines. The two purposes are quite different. Birds do not shoot back, birds seldom attack and then not in packs. The limit on hunting shotguns was instituted to prevent market hunters from destroying entire populations of birds. Self-defense is not a sporting activity. The object is to take every advantage. One advantage is extra ammunition on board and ready whenever I snatch up my rifle.

The Department of Revenue and Highway Patrol have violated our privacy rights by distributing our personal information outside Missouri law enforcement. The law repeatedly prohibits such distribution. They first denied it, they lied to us. Now they admit it. The Highway Patrol said that they would do it again. A law enforcement agency violates the law and would do so again. After all, they are just violating the rights of gun nuts. Our local newspaper scolds us that we are paranoid little psychopaths. We are told that the information was only sent to Social Security to determine if one of us was fraudulently receiving benefits for mental health disability. We are told that the information was sent on encrypted disks that could not be read and were destroyed. Of course, this information comes from people who lied to us before. If Social Security is looking for fraud, it seems unlikely to find it in lists of CCW holders; our names went through the crazy computer when we got our licenses. The entire exercise was a lie from beginning to end and designed to violate our rights. They don't believe that we deserve rights; we are only gun nuts, we do not deserve rights. It is a little like the Cherokee removal from Georgia in 1830. They were one of the "civilized tribes." In The Outlaw Josie Wales, Chief Dan George said that meant they were easy to sneak up on. The Cherokee tried to accommodate the demands of their white neighbors but were told they did not need or deserve their rights, being only savages. They were stripped of their right to defend themselves in court, in their homes, and finally were driven on a death march to Oklahoma. If they plan to treat us the way they treated American Indians, we are in a great deal of trouble indeed.

The terror bomb in Boston was made from gunpowder, perhaps black powder. We can expect the re-enactors and reloaders to be punished. Nevermind that terrorists can make such low-level explosives in their kitchens.

A St. Louis CCW instructor has been accused of faking classes. This endangers the licenses of his 1,700 students and our CCW system. We need to keep an eye on cases like this. The opposition hates us and doubtless wants revenge for our recent success in congress and the legislature. They will use this case as an excuse.

I saw a T-Shirt which proclaims, "Good guy with a gun." This could be a great shirt for open-carry advocates. I saw a video of an ex-Marine cop encountering an ex-Marine open-carry advocate (who appeared to be wearing a Marine T-shirt). Given this connection, things went much better than most such encounters.

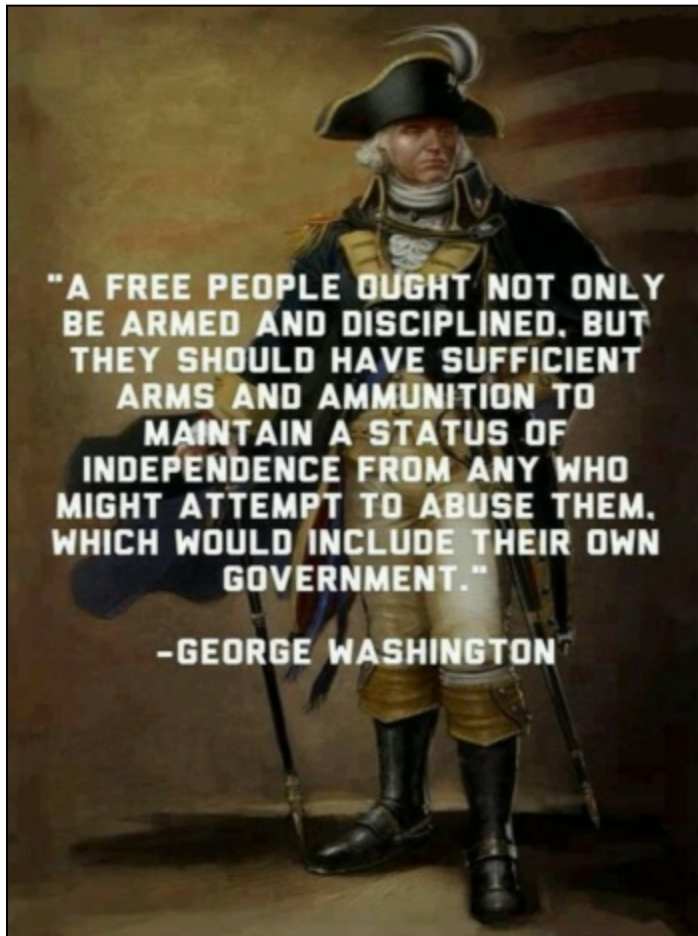

WMSA President-for-Life Sheila has asked the most stunningly brilliant question. She asked, "What is the penalty for a politician violating his or her oath of office?" This is the most obvious question that has never been asked. There is no penalty. There really should be. At present, the only penalty is the next election, which is where we come in; and the more of us the better.

A Johnson County KS judge has dismissed open-carry lawsuits against local cities. The dismissal was on the grounds that the Libertarian Party officials bringing the suit had not shown that they were harmed by the ban. This is a mere procedural ruling and not a decision on the merits.

We are scolded that we do not know our place. That in the old days the NRA represented hunters and target shooters and was never so rude as to demand its rights. I tell these scolds that you can only push a people so far and they should get used to it.

We shall overcome.

MANY SECOND AMENDMENT RALLIES IN MISSOURI & ELSEWHERE

With the current awareness and events surrounding the mass shootings around the country, there has been a lot of rallies held by many different groups and some without "formal" sponsorship.

On January 16 in the Capitol Rotunda, there was the third annual "Consent of the Governed" which was held by a statewide conservative organization.

Although they addressed many issues relative to their cause, they also sought a speaker for the Second Amendment. They called on Marc Perez because many in this particular group knew of his interest in Second Amendment rights.

The response was very impressive from the mostly quiet crowd to the 6-minute talk. The event was posted on a few social media sites, and people who had never participated in any Second Amendment rallies or causes turned out in fairly large numbers. As Marc Perez was giving his talk, a group who remains unknown came up on the platform with pro-2A signs and held them for all to see. These mysterious sign holders vanished after the talk, but word got around the capitol they went and talked with many legislators quite spontaneously about our rights and the Second Amendment.

Ten days prior to January 19th, there was a call from the RKBA national organization for people around the country to meet at their state capitols and hold a "National Second Amendment Rally." A young man, Kenny Parks from Hannibal, MO (who had never been involved in any way with Second Amendment issues), heard of this and ran with the cause. On short notice, he obtained a permit for a rally on the north side (Missouri River side) of the Missouri Capitol known as the Veterans Memorial. Mostly with the help of social media, he struck out looking for people to talk, a PA system, and a crowd.

The crowd did show on short notice. National media was on site, and the event was an incredible success. The crowd was estimated by Capitol Police to be 800-1000 people. It overflowed the Veteran's Memorial area, and people gathered on the Capitol steps across the street. There were hundreds of pro-2A signs, flags and banners. One outstanding speaker was the host of a nationally syndicated conservative talk radio station from California Missouri, Beth Schoeneberg of www.csctalkradio.com. She was quite impressive and well versed on Second Amendment rights. She was also the emcee for the annual "Rally Day" on April 18, 2013 at 10 am in the 1st floor Rotunda at the Missouri State Capitol.

The annual Rally Day on April 18 was promoted at the rally on January 19th. There was a Facebook site promoting "Rally Day," and after January 19th, the attendance of Facebook to the Rally post grew by over 100 people in just over a week! Social media can be our friend indeed.
